React Context Objectives

After completing this material, you will be able to:

- Create a React wrapper component
- Share and manage global information within a React application using Context
- Create a React provider component that will manage the value of a Context
- Retrieve values from a Context throughout your application
- Describe the relationships between provider, consumer, and context

Did you find this lesson helpful?